THIRTY-NINTH YEAR, No. 33.

CROWDS CHEER LAST MOTOR BOAT RACE OF SEASON FOR BAY CITY

Three Races Captured by Wee Roo; Weston Cup Captured By Rocket II—Deedy Withdraws From Contest Outlook For Next Year.

Threatening attitude of Jupiter Pluvius meant nothing to the crowds that gathered in Bay St. Louis Sunday afternoon to witness the last of a series of outboard motor races which were sponsored by Commodore Charles A. Breath, Sr., of this city, to whom goes the credit of success which attended every number of the series of aquatic events.

It was by far the largest crowd that had assembled to witness a like event. Where the people came from and how they came was a subject attracting thought and attention. Louisiana, Mississippi and Southern Alabama poured its share. Every nook and crook of the Gulf Coast was represented. Number of trophies had been augmented and every feature conspired to a greater interest.

As usual, the race was run over the waters of the bay at the mouth of Jordan river, an ideal spot for both contestants and spectators.

A feature of the afternoon was the consistency shown by Newton Howard's Wee Roo, which won three of the races on the card. Driven by E. C. Vreeland, the Wee Roo won in both class B and class C, and then, with her owner, Newton Howard, in charge, she won the class D event.

In class B, Wee Roo beat A. Shaver's Miss Slidell and Fred Komp's Breezing Along; in class C the Wee Roo beat H. L. Rochel in the Mauser 2nd of Patterson, and L. Alvis of Jackson, Miss., in the Whoopie; and in class D the Wee Roo won over the Red Rocket II, driven by Shaw, and the My Own, driven by E. Higgins, Shaw and the Rocket gained their revenge in the free-for-all race.

Something of an upset took place in the free-for-all event for the Weston cup when the Deedy, champion little racer which Walker Pate has been driving to victory in many events, failed to land among the first three. She had engine trouble and had to withdraw. The race was won by Harry Williams' Rocket II, of Patterson, La., with "Buck" Shaw driving. He beat the J. O. of New Orleans, driven by A. Lovren, E. Higgins, in the My Own, was third.

The Rocket II, away well, took the lead soon after the start and, racing steadily, drew away to a wide margin. Five races were run besides the free-for-all, the event for women drivers attracting much attention. It was won by the Marie of New Orleans, with Miss Alice Reinecke, driving. She beat the Wax Free, Jr., driven by Miss Mary Bourgeois of Bay St. Louis, while the Mercury, driven by Miss Virginia Chapman of Bay St. Louis, was third.

R. J. Lohr, of New Orleans, drove his My Baby to a clean-cut triumph in the race for displacement boats. The Wax Free, Jr., driven by Joe Lafranco, was second and Miss Slidell of Slidell, La., driven by A. Sharp, was third.

The outboard motorboat program at Bay St. Louis have proved the most popular of outdoor sport ever held at the Bay and Charles A. Breath, Sr., who inaugurated the plan to have frequent outdoor regattas here, is laying big plans for more and better races for next summer.

Aside from their sporting value, these races have proven of inestimable value to Bay St. Louis—attracting thousands of people here who otherwise would not visit here in so large numbers at one time.

The Echo wishes to congratulate Mr. Breath on the splendid success that has attended his efforts. He is fully entitled to all the glory that has come his way.

We also wish to commend the merchants and other business people who co-operated with Mr. Breath in making it possible to give so many handsome trophies. Mr. Breath is appreciative of the splendid spirit that prompted so liberal co-operation.

VISIT POTTERY

A party composed of Miss Dellie McConnell, Mrs. Orie M. Rollard and son, Bobby Pollard, of the Oriole, motored to Ocean Springs Thursday to spend the day at Shearwater Pottery which is conducted by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Anderson, brother-in-law and sister of Miss McConnell. This pottery where so many artistic articles are found in the studios on the grounds is most interesting and is one of the loveliest of the Coast art centers.

CARRIES PRISONER

A curious method of transporting a prisoner was observed in Bay St. Louis Wednesday when Marshal Herman Finhold of Pass Christian, was observed to pass through town riding his motorcycle and had the prisoner handcuffed to the machine.

CARRYING WEAPONS

Deputy Sheriff Lander H. Necaise, of Kiln, arrested a man Saturday night for carrying concealed weapons. He was released on bond and will be tried before Justice of the Peace F. Fuente Saturday.

SUCCESSFUL SPONSOR OF OUTBOARD MOTOR BOAT RACES FOR BAY

who is entitled to the biggest trophy of all for the success which rewarded his efforts and indefatigable energy personally managing and sponsoring a series of outboard motor boat races for Bay St. Louis, easily proving the outstanding factor of the season's activity and attracting more visitors to this section at any one time more than any one thing else.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY PROGRAM

The program given Sunday morning at the First Methodist church in observance of Sunday School Day proved quite successful and was enjoyed by the large congregation in attendance. The program varied in and young persons, men, women, and children, in that it was given by officers, teachers and students of the school, the officers and teachers explaining in interesting form their particular province in the school and introducing their classes with an appropriate song. What the Sunday School aims to do and the work of the Sunday School Board were also stated. The program occupied less than an hour and its method of presentation demonstrated vividly the value of the teaching department of the church. The committee in charge of the program included: Mesdames C. C. McDonald, C. M. Shipp, and C. Clark.

STUDENT FROM NOTRE DAME HOME FOR VISIT

Marchmont Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schwartz, arrived Monday from Waukegan, Ill., for three weeks' visit before returning north to enter his junior year at Notre Dame College. He will begin the study of law this fall, having taken the course leading to the legal profession. Mr. Schwartz, graduate of St. Stanislaus College, one of the outstanding athletes of American colleges today, has been connected with the program including and Insulating Company, since college closed in June.

Attend Important Meeting

Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., Commissioner Sylvan J. Ladner, Supervisor Emilio Cue, Clerk of the Courts A. G. Favre, Cashier Leo W. Seal of the Hancock County Bank, county Attorney E. J. Gex, George R. Rea, president Bay Chamber of Commerce, and C. G. Moreau, representing the Sea Coast Echo, attended the coast-wide conference held at Gulfport on Thursday of this week in the interest of the work to be launched by the Research Commission of the State of Mississippi, which was called by Mr. Rea last week, bankers and others co-operating. There is no more important work at hand than that to be carried out by this newly-created State commission.

Going to North Carolina.

Mrs. Prather McDonald and son, Somerled McDonald, of Nyack-on-Hudson, N. Y., who have been at Bay St. Louis since the early winter stopping at the Hotel Weston, will leave for the North Carolina mountains the latter part of this week. Mr. McDonald, who is at present in Memphis, will motor here, joining his wife and son and the three will motor to North Carolina.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT PASS CHRISTIAN INJURES MRS. BERNOS

Joe Benigno, of Bay St. Louis, Charged With Reckless Driving on Pass Beach

Mrs. John Bernos, of Clermont Harbor, was painfully injured one evening last week in front of the Hancock County Bank at Pass Christian while driving in an automobile with friends coming home from a trip to Bloxi, and was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Tony Ball, of New Orleans, who, like other members in the car, escaped injury.

It appears the car in which Mrs. Bernos was driving was moving at a fair rate of speed within the town limits. A Chevrolet coach, owned and driven by Joe Benigno, of 500 Washington street, Bay St. Louis, with two young ladies was driving toward Gulfport direction. "I saw the car coming," said Mrs. Bernos, "and by the fast manner in which it was driven I felt it would crash into our car. It was driven so fast that it seemed to have been beyond control. When the crash came I was thrown over, pieces of the windshield cut me and my chest was bruised most painfully." Mrs. Bernos was attended by Dr. Rafferty, of Pass Christian, and later carried to her home at Clermont Harbor and put to bed, her condition quite painful and as yet undetermined.

Young Benigno was arrested by the traffic officer and tried before Mayor Spence Monday evening, charged with reckless driving. He was fined $10.00 and costs, all of which was remitted. Mayor Spence said while the defendant was guilty of reckless driving he felt, from circumstance, the occurrence in a great measure was an accident.

However, Harrison county justice not satisfied at this, will try the case and possibly other findings will result.

Mrs. Bernos has consulted her attorney and will in all probability file suit against Benigno.

Backs Appreciation Of Hospitality With Check For Hospital

H. L. Howard, resident agent at New Orleans for the Burroughs Adding Machine company, addressed a letter with check for $25.00 enclosed, which is an earnest of his appreciation of the hospitality which he enjoyed while here Sunday and his thoughtfulness toward the King's Daughters Bay St. Louis Hospital.

The letter is addressed to Chas. A. Breath, Sr., and follows: "You good people in Bay St. Louis have been so nice in regard to the holding of outboard racing, that my son, Newton, owner of the Wee Roo, and his mother and father want you to accept the attached check towards the new hospital, which we only heard of on our way back from the Bay yesterday evening."

Former N. O. Chief To Reside in The Bay-Waveland District

Former Supt. of Police Theodore A. Ray, of New Orleans, is to make the Bay-Waveland District his permanent home, and accordingly this week gave the contract for $2,000 dwelling to be constructed on a lot of land recently purchased from Mrs. D. Dorgenois in Waveland Terrace. Work will begin on the place Monday and will be ready for occupancy within a comparatively short time. "I am very fond of this section," said Chief Ray to The Echo, "and I anticipate the fact that I am to make it my permanent home, residing here all the year round."

METHODIST WOMEN MISSIONARY MEET

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church will meet Tuesday afternoon, August 19, 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. James A. Evans of North Beach Boulevard, with Mrs. Charles Mitchell as joint hostess.

FUNDS FOR HOSPITAL CONTINUE

King's Daughters Now Have Total Collection of $2,257.57 in Bank—More In Sight.

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, local president King's Daughters Hospital, reports a total of $2,257.57 deposited in part in the Hancock County Bank and part in the Merchants Bank and Trust Co., as money in hand for hospital building fund, with more cash donations in sight, and justly feels much encouraged. Other associates of the project share in this feeling of satisfaction.

Bay St. Louis and out of town friends have responded most generously to the cause. Since the list of contributions was published in last week's Echo the following is reported, which we are pleased to publish. Misses K. A. and G. Hoff:

Man Mrs. P. J. Muller, $15.00
Miss F. Brown, 5.00
Motor Boat Races, 23.58
Miss Dellie McConnell, 5.00
Edward Kalinski, of Chicago, 10.00
Frederic C. Huber of New York, 5.00
Leonard Krower & Son, 10.00
Mrs. Regina Walshe Logan, 10.00
Mr. Harry L. Howard, 25.00

Publication of donations appearing in last week's Echo were erroneously published through no mistake of anyone in particular—just the result of unavoidable circumstances and misunderstanding. The names omitted is deeply regretted.

MAN IS CUT AFTER ARGUMENT SATURDAY

Leroy Northrop, Harrison county resident, brother-in-law of Sheriff J. C. Jones of Hancock county, is at the King's Daughters Hospital in Gulfport suffering from serious wounds said to have been administered by Harold Pape of the Standard community following an argument at a dance in the Standard community, and Mr. Pape is held in the county jail in Hancock county pending the outcome of Mr. Northrop's wounds. Deputy Sheriff Lander H. Necaise of Kiln, arrested Mr. Pape, about an hour after the cutting. Mr. Necaise was en route to the dance when notified of the cutting.

BAPTIST SOCIETY HAS STUDY COURSE

The prayer meeting Wednesday night at the First Baptist church was given over to the Women's Missionary Society which had been engaged in the study of a book, Only a Missionary by R. Ray. Two chapters of the book had been studied at missionary society meetings and at the prayer meeting Wednesday night the other four chapters of the book were studied, those presenting the several chapters being Mrs. W. S. Allen, Mrs. Niles E. Cruthirds, Mrs. W. O. Sylvester and Mrs. James Sylvester. This method of presenting the mission study book proved quite interesting.

CITY ASSESSMENT ROLLS APPROVED

The city tax assessment rolls were approved at the meeting of the city commissioners August 4, and these rolls have now been recopied and are on file permanently at the city hall.

AUTO COLLISION

An auto collision occurred Wednesday afternoon at the corner of Euterbrook and Toulon streets, when the car owned by Wm. A. Staehle and driven by Mrs. T. D. Pearlstone of New Orleans, and Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois' car came together. Mrs. Bourgeois escaped injury and so did Mrs. Pearlstone but two of the Staehle children, William, Jr., and Georgia Rose, suffered injuries, William having two gashes and Georgia Rose being bruised.

SUMMER FAIR FOR CATHOLIC CHURCH IS GREAT SUCCESS

Attendance is Good at Festival Saturday and Sunday For Benefit of Our Lady Of The Gulf Church

The mid-summer festival and fair given Saturday and Sunday of last week on the lawn of St. Stanislaus College for the benefit of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church proved highly successful both from the point of view of the delightful entertainment afforded all who attended and the satisfactory financial returns from the undertaking. Rev. Father Leo Fahey, chairman of the fair, announces. Not only did the threatening showers hold off and give dry weather for the two days of the fair but the dampening of any spirits was likewise restrained and the spirit of enjoyment of the occasion was pleasurable. Although the complete returns of the fair are not yet tabulated results to date give a good financial report of proceeds for the church fund.

The amusements were enjoyed by grownups as well as children and a spirit of cheerfulness prevailed among the large crowds present. The success of the fair is due in large measure to the careful planning and untiring work of the ladies of the various committees and the spirit of generosity which permeated the attendance," Rev. Fahey said. The pastor expresses his appreciation to all who aided in the success of the fair, in generous donations, work and expenditure.

CACTI PLANT AT WAVELAND HOME OF MRS. JOHN MEYERS

John Meyers of San Antonio Brought Several of Cacti Varieties to His Mother

A distinctive touch of Texas atmosphere has been added to the beautiful garden of Mrs. John Meyers at her Waveland home when her son, John T. Meyers, of San Antonio, brought several varieties of cacti plants when he motored here for a visit recently.

Two of the cacti specimens were secured on the top of Mount Franklin overlooking El Paso. The remainder were taken from Mr. Meyers' yard in San Antonio, where this plant life is very much in prominence. En route to its adopted home in Mrs. Meyers' garden, amid the lefty plants, one of these thorny plants burst into profuse bloom, and continues to bud after being transplanted. Texas soil was carried with the plants so that the cacti might become gradually adapted to the local soil condition here.

Mrs. Meyers, a garden enthusiast, plans to arrange one garden plot in the form of a star to represent the Lone Star state, and will plant there in such plants and flowers that are associated with the wide open spaces of the west. Her son, John, will send these home to her from different parts of Texas.

St. Margaret's Home.

St. Margaret's Home, known officially as the Blenk Memorial Home, on the Bay St. Louis South Beach Boulevard, has been opened on the 1st of June for the reception of vacationists, so far as has entertained in two-week periods 320 guests. On this Thursday a new and the last quota of the season arrived numbering 104 ladies and children, bringing a total of 424 people, who, otherwise it had not been for this organized charity of St. Margaret's Daughters would never have had this happiness and health-giving factor to enter into their drab lives.

Mrs. Joseph J. Ritayik is in charge of this splendid work, executive manager, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Phene Rice.

"My Southern Home."

Brother Arsenius, of the local faculty St. Stanislaus College, left Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning for Baton Rouge, La., to which place he has been assigned as a member of the Catholic High School faculty and while always ready to obey orders from his superiors of the order, left Bay St. Louis reluctantly.

On the occasion of his departure, his emotions of love for this section of Mississippi stirred to the very depths, he wrote the article, "My Southern Home," which appears in this issue of the Sea Coast Echo on page five.

Benefit Dance

For the benefit of the Altar Society of St. Claire's church, at Waveland, ladies of the parish announce a dance at Villers' Hall, Waveland, Sunday evening, August 17 to which admission of 50 cents for gentlemen and 25 cents for ladies will be charged.

Music will be by the High Steppers of New Orleans, a band of unusual jazz tendency and propensities. To miss the festival of jazz by the High Steppers will be missing an event in jazzdom.

BRO. PETER REASSIGNED TO PRESIDENCY OF ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE

Bro. Lambert, From Baton Rouge Heads, To Go To St. Aloysius at New Orleans—V. Pres. Bro. Robert To Donaldsonville, La.

SOMETHING WE DON'T KNOW—

The Pascagoula Chronicle-Star calls attention to the value of our shrimp and oyster trade, an industry that the people of Mississippi know very little about, in the following article:

From an exchange we learn that the value of the shrimp and oysters packed in South Mississippi in 1928 was as follows:

Shrimp—109,916 cases valued at $629,960; oysters 205,115 cases valued at $1,119,123; or a total of $1,749,083. This does not take into account the crabs and crab meat and fresh fish shipped out of the state; and the value of these products must have increased considerably during the year 1929.

We are not in the habit of paying much attention to such trifles but not more than a century ago the entire cotton crop did not produce so much. Twenty-five years ago the dairy industry, now so important to us, did not yield so much income.

FORMER RESIDENT RETURNS AND ENTERS BUSINESS ON N. BEACH

Harry S. Saucier, well-known former resident of this city is welcomed back and has acquired the filling and service station formerly owned and operated by W. J. Harrison on the South Beach front by the Superior Oil Company featuring Lion gasoline.

Mr. Saucier has leased the place and will conduct the business for his own account, and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage, to which "Saucier's Superior Service" is entitled. Mr. Saucier's family will join him within the next few days to take up their abode here.

SUSTAIN SEVERE JOLTING AS TRAIN SUDDENLY STOPS

While traveling to New Orleans Saturday morning as passengers on the regular Coast train Ralph Ragan, of Bay of Court, and Mrs. Mary J. Montgomery, residing in Sycamore street, were among the victims of an unusual occurrence.

It appears the train had about reached New Orleans and was said to be engaged in effort to aid the incapacitated inbound New York train, when it came to a sudden lurch and passengers of the train were thrown into confusion. Cushion seats were dislodged from their fitting and other shaking up followed.

Mr. Ragan was thrown over the back of a seat in front of him and cut his mouth and several teeth damaged. Mrs. Montgomery received bruises about the body and bruise on her left arm, and a young lady from along the coast whose name could not be ascertained sustained a severe shoulder injury.

Every effort possible was at once exerted by the train crew to make the passengers comfortable.

KING'S DAUGHTERS TO HAVE CARD PARTY

The Bay St. Louis Circle of King's Daughters and Sons will give a benefit card party Wednesday afternoon, August 20, beginning at 2 o'clock, at the Hotel Weston for the maintenance fund of the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital. In order to defray running expenses of the hospital and care for many charity calls it is necessary to augment the income of the hospital by benefits from time to time. The public is invited to attend the party and hostesses are urged to form tables, bringing their friends to the party.

Welcome Back to Bay St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Lefebvre, former residents of Bay St. Louis, have returned to this city to live in the midst of many friends, and have purchased back the home in Sycamore street, which they formerly owned, from the Peoples Building and Loan Association owners. The transaction was for a cash consideration.

Mr. Lefebvre and family have resided in New Orleans the past ten years or more and are delighted to be back home, as he expresses it. Their local friends are equally glad to welcome them back.

Following annual retreat exercises Brothers of the Sacred Heart received sealed notice of their appointment of assignments for the new scholastic year, many changes taking place over the territory within the jurisdiction of the provincial.

Bro. Peter, for the past several years vice president and later president, was again appointed to the presidency of St. Stanislaus, and our people will rejoice at the news of his retention. The college has flourished under his administration and material work accomplished. He will continue the splendid work he has inaugurated and will also engage upon other plans of expansion.

Bro. Williams, formerly president of St. Aloysius, at New Orleans, will come to Bay St. Louis as vice president, succeeding Bro. Robert who is assigned to Donaldsonville, La., to head St. Joseph's Commercial Institute of that place.

Bro. Casimir will head the senior class, Brother Edmund and Bro. Dominic third year high, while Bro. Celsus, from Baton Rouge, and Bro. Randolph to second year high. Bro. Urban, from St. Aloysius, at New Orleans, will come to Bay St. Louis to head first year high.

Bro. Lambert to New Orleans.

Bro. Lambert, former president St. Stanislaus College, and for the past six years president Catholic High School, at Baton Rouge, has been assigned to New Orleans as president St. Aloysius College.

Bro. Lambert is quite a favorite with Bay St. Louisians and located at New Orleans will be seen more frequently here than in the past.

Prof. Rupert Wentworth, B. A., of Bay St. Louis, has been appointed by Bro. Peter to the teaching faculty, in which capacity he formerly served with success.

H. Grady Perkins, coach of athletics, has been reappointed for the 1930-1931 session, pleasing news to his many Bay St. Louis friends and elsewhere and also to the student body returning.

Brothers Retained

Members of the faculty retained for the ensuing year include: Bro. Casimir, secretary of the board and college; Brother Fabian, treasurer. Brother Edmund, Brother Rodolph, Brother William Henry, Brother Lawrence, Brother Lucius and Brother Francis, who will each continue to handle next year the same work as last year. It is observed in the announcement of the faculty that the number of brothers teaching at St. Stanislaus College next year will be greater than last year, three brothers replacing laymen teachers.

Brother Oliver, former head of the music department at St. Stanislaus College, one of the most popular members of the faculty, has been assigned to Alexandria, to the deep regret of the local faculty and Coast residents. As yet his successor in the music department has not been named.

Both Brother Peter and Brother William are away from the college for two weeks engaged in visitation, Brother Peter in Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and possibly Georgia, and Brother William in Oklahoma. In their absence the college is in charge of Brother Casimir.

The retreat which closed here Thursday of last week was quite successful with a total of 98 brothers of the order in attendance from all states in which the order maintains schools and homes.

UNION SERVICE OF BAPTIST, METHODIST

A union service of the congregations of the First Methodist and First Baptist church will be held Sunday, August 17, at the First Methodist church at 11 a. m., with Rev. W. S. Allen, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivering the sermon. The choirs of the two churches will combine to furnish the music. An invitation is extended the members of both congregations, their friends and all interested to attend the service. There will not be a night service at the Methodist church but preaching will be held at the Baptist church at 7:45 o'clock, with Rev. Allen delivering the sermon and everyone is invited to attend. Rev. O. C. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist church is at McLain conducting a revival this week which will close Sunday and he expects to return to Bay St. Louis early next week.

Benefit Card Party

St. Margaret's Daughters will give a benefit card party Friday, August 29, beginning at 2 o'clock, at the Hotel Weston for the benefit of the funds of the organization. All proceeds are used for charitable purposes and the public is urged to attend. Prizes will be given for each table, the prizes to be handsome cakes.

All honor to Chairman C. M. Morgan of the State railroad commission for voting against the granting of a franchise to Mississippi Motor Transportation Company to operate its busses over the highways and roads. It was believed that no final action would be taken by the commission for sometime to come, but the matter was reopened one day last week and by a 2-1 vote the franchise was granted. An appeal will be taken and the opponents of the granted franchise will fight it out in the courts.

COLLOSSAL COST OF LEGISLATURE.

We see it stated that the total appropriations made by the Mississippi legislature for 1903-1905 amounted to $3,916,795.69 while the total appropriation for 1930-1931 was $29,900,377.32. But just remember that back in 1903-1905 the legislature was made up of men who had some idea of economy and they looked out for the best interests of the taxpayers.

IDOL OF THE STATE.

The re-nomination of Pat Harrison for another six-year term in the United States senate without opposition is an honor rarely bestowed upon men. Mississippi is particularly fortunate in having a statesman of his mental calibre to represent her in "the greatest deliberative body in the world," and his services will never be dispensed with as long as he cares to stay there.

PAT HARRISON AND HOW!

Senator Pat Harrison in his speech at the Philadelphia fair last week flayed the national administration "go in' an' coming," and when that is said those who have heard Pat's denunciation of the "common enemy" know that he made a good job of it.

The census bureau at Washington has announced that the population of this country is just 122,698,190, as compared to 105,710,620 in 1920, which shows a gain of 16.1 per cent.

A. D. Payne, a prominent attorney of Amarillo, Texas, has confessed that he placed a dynamite bomb in his wife's automobile which exploded and killed her. If justice prevails he will go to the electric chair.

J. L. Smith, prosecuting attorney for Lawrence county, has been indicted for drunkenness in office. He appeared in a justice court recently to prosecute a liquor charge and was too drunk to proceed with the case.

A 16-year-old boy at Ashland, Kentucky, who was trying to break the record for "tree sitting" lost his balance and fell 45 feet to the ground. His neck was broken. Let other "sitters" take warning.

The Picayune Item is filled with doubt as to whether any benefit to the State results from the annual tour of the "Know Mississippi Better" train over the country, since "it seems to have relegated to a politicians' vacation at the taxpayers' expense."

Two negro men were taken from the county jail at Marion, Indiana, by a mob a few nights ago and hung. The crimes for which they paid the death penalty was the murder of a young white man and a criminal attack upon his 18-year-old girl companion.

The Lindberghs left their baby one day last week while they went for a brief airplane trip. It is not reported in the dispatches whether Charles Augustus, Jr., made any protest over being left to the care of his nurse while his distinguished parents went sailing through the air.

"No one can get in trouble by eating fruit in hot weather," says a well-known woman writer. Yet memory seems to recall that an apple once started something that still echoes—Hattiesburg American. It might have been an apple, yet we are of the opinion it was a pair (pear) that was responsible for the trouble.

James B. Ross, prominent insurance man of New Orleans, was arrested last week on an affidavit charging him with the embezzlement of $72,431.22 of funds of the New Orleans Underwriters' Agency during the past ten years. His arrest came as a surprising shock to the business and social world of the city.

According to the census returns Mississippi is due to lose one congressman, and there is going to be a lively time in 1932 when the legislature attempts to re-district the State. Every one of the eight congressmen now serving in the House of Representatives will move heaven and earth to prevent being the one who has to get out.

Two Copiah county officials were indicted last week on serious charges. M. E. Furr, a supervisor, is charged with fraud in official action in connection with the purchase of road machinery and Ed Mitchell, a constable, faces trial for embezzlement of tax monies collected by him. Such unworthy public servants, if proven guilty, deserve the heaviest penalty the law provides.

"THE STRUTTING PIN-HEAD"

"The strutting pin-head who happens to be governor of Mississippi at this time declared in a recent speech at Hattiesburg that he wanted to 'stir up hell all over Mississippi.' Some day, perhaps, we will have a governor with higher aspirations—a man who will encourage peace and contentment and constructive development."—West Point Times-Leader.

The Echo, like every newspaper in Mississippi, accepted the choice of the people without a murmur of complaint when they put Mr. Bilbo back into the governor's mansion as it had high hopes of his making a chief executive of whom all Mississippians would be proud. We believed that he had "gathered wisdom" during the time he was out of office and it was within his power to give the commonwealth a splendid administration and leave a record which would compare favorably with that of any of his predecessors. But how badly he has disappointed the people, and his ravishment of the educational institutions of the State is convincing proof that he deserves to be classed as a "strutting pin-head" politician who is drunk with the lust of power.

MA BILBO.

Some of the political wiseacres up at Jackson seem to think that Mrs. Theodore G. Bilbo may get into the gubernatorial contest, which will afford the governor a chance to get on the stump and defend his administration in support of her candidacy. They point to the fact that Jim Ferguson who was ousted from the governor's office in Texas put Mrs. Ferguson in the ensuing race and secured her election. While we do not think Mrs. Bilbo will be a candidate there is no telling what may happen in the next few months. In the event she is pushed into the fray, it would spell disaster for at least two of the already announced candidates—Franklin and Mitchell—both of whom are counting heavily on the Bilbo followers for support. But we can wait a while to "see what we shall see."

UNENVIABLE POSITION

"All dressed up and nowhere to go" is the condition in which the new State highway commission finds itself. Failure of the legislature to provide the necessary funds to build any new roads, or even to maintain those already built, puts the commission in an unenviable position. Doubtless the commission will be the target of much adverse and undeserved criticism. Governor Bilbo and the "Big Four" are equally responsible for holding up the ambitious plan for providing the State with an adequate system of hard-surfaced highways and the loss of Federal aid. The people are not going to forget that fact.

COTTON AND PRICES.

Notwithstanding the government report on August 8 predicted a decrease of nearly a million bales of cotton this season as compared with last year's crop, price of the staple dropped $3 per bale on the cotton exchanges in New Orleans and New York. It is a gambler's game pure and simple and the laws of actual demand and consumption are factors that do not enter into the question of governing prices. And so it is with every other commodity produced and sold by the agriculturists of this country—and perhaps it will ever be so until the government takes a hand in fixing prices. The poor fillers of the soil are powerless to help themselves.

ROSS COLLINS' EXCUSE.

Congressman Ross Collins seemed to treat the candidacy of his opponent as a joke, for a while but we notice he is getting about over the Fifth district and making a lot of speeches of late. He is trying very hard to prove that he was not disloyal to the Democratic party in 1923, but the voters whose suffrage he seeks are not inclined to accept the flimsy excuse he offers for leaving the State and voting an "absentee" ticket when the national campaign committee was calling for Democratic speakers and sending every one that could be gotten into those sections where the Democratic ticket was most in need of help.

HOME OWNERSHIPS.

Home ownership is the salvation of the country. Nothing improves a community like getting the people interested in owning their own truer, and The Echo is in full agreement thereon.—Jackson Clarion-Ledger. Nothing is with. "But with tax levies amounting to little less than confiscation in Mississippi—and being constantly increased year after year—there is no encouragement for our people to 'own their own homes.' Lowering of tax rates would be an inducement to people of moderate means to make every sacrifice to own the roof which shelters them.

STRAWBERRY-GROWING.

The Echo knows that this immediate section possesses unparalleled advantages for the successful growing of strawberries and by co-operation a great industry in that line of agricultural pursuit can be developed. Therefore this paper pledges its earnest support to those men who have recently been active in promoting the industry along the Coast. Should three hundred acres of land be planted to berries in Hancock and Harrison counties for the coming season the immense profits realized will beyond any doubt insure double that acreage the next season.

HARVEY IN BAD AGAIN.

Harvey Seal, the Louisiana youth who was acquitted on a murder charge in the circuit court of this county about a year ago, is in trouble again. He has been arrested and jailed at Franklinton for robbing the Washington Bank and Trust Company at Angie, La., about ten days ago. Two other youths are also implicated in the robbery and are behind the bars pending such time when they will be arraigned in court.

LOCAL SIDELIGHTSBAY ST. LOUIS AND VICINITY LIBERAL.

Considering the many calls that are in vogue just now for assistance to several causes, for well are these legion, financial result in each and every effort is such as to stamp our people and the many visitors at present within our gates as more than liberal. For no one loses sight of the fact times are tense and one must necessarily be cautious in spending.

Spontaneous was the response to the call Saturday and Sunday nights in the interest of the local Catholic church when the regular annual mid-summer festival served as popular medium to gather checks. Every mite assisted and the story is well told in the figures of approximately $1200. The liberality of the people of this section is well nigh proverbial. Just now there are drives, collections, benefit entertainments and what not for meritorious and commendable causes and neither suffer for want of patronage.

THE MASTER TOUCH OF LANDSCAPE GARDENER.

"Elmwood Manor," the dream home of the ante bellum days, relic of the day of elegance and comfort, originally the Coward plantation home, has all down the vista of years shown every evidence of care and preservation. It has had different ownership and at no time has it suffered neglect, but on the contrary, attention and amelioration has been the order.

Now owned by E. V. Richards, Elmwood Manor has perhaps under his ownership undergone the most extensive renovation than at any one time. Some dozen years since when Mr. Richards' company acquired the property a modest fortune was spent thereon. Lately Mr. Richards acquired the property in his own name and right and how much he has spent in beautifying, solidifying this stately mansion is best attested to by the improvements that stand. Mr. Richards is making the place his family home. No pains or money spared. Everything within the bound of good taste has been done.

Now the landscape gardener, the artist, with the witchery of his artful arrangement of arbor vitae, leguminosae, abelia, nandina, etc., has been given carte blanche to transform the grounds into that kind of a garden commensurate with the beauty and charm of the mansion. This artist is from the coast and native nursery will supply the "shrub."

Then the artist from New Orleans was here a few days ago and has mapped the place for such garden ornamentation as fashions with stone and concrete. And many little conceits in bronze, marble will find lodgment in niches here and there.

HOSPITAL RECEIVES HELP FROM DISTANT CITIES.

In publishing list of donations to the Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital building fund it is noted many of the contributions come from away. We see New York, Chicago, and other distant points represented. Mr. Alvis, of hotel reputation at Jackson, Miss., also sent in a nice check, to say nothing of the generous outpouring from New Orleans. The hospital has the hearty approval of the many, and while there is yet much money to be realized the present amount of the many elements that go to make up everyday life, and the things by which we are frequently judged and rated, but there is nothing so appalling and that belies our own would-be ethics by allowing our premises to be surrounded with weeds and yard litter.

We have all kinds of endurance tests this summer. It is possible, judging from the abundant of luxuriant weeds we are out to break another record.

President Rea's courteous and timely letters will bear fruit. We must keep our house in order and our city as well. Co-operation and a little disposition will work wonders.

A subscriber, not the first, asks why such-and-such store fails to advertise any more, saying: "I miss it because I purchased largely from the ad." Answer: The firm is of the opinion it is saving (?) money. Over five thousand people read The Sea Coast Echo every week.

The constant and careful reader of the home newspaper in generally best posted.

With the delivery this week of several thousand receipts to the office of county tax collector it does look as if one had best be thinking seriously of preparing to pay. Death and taxes are inevitable; and apparently little or no thought or preparation is given to either.

Since the rush always follows a full there should be much building here this winter. We confidently look for it. With labor plentiful and material price low, no better time to build than now. Every citizen to own than now. Try it.

This column has received two or three letters of late that bear no relation to the subject. One contains constructive criticism, another would destroy. Of course, neither will be published. However, neither writer signed his or

EDITORIAL OF THE DAYFED UP ON FACTIONALISM.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

Down at Patrons Union near Jackson, the scene of an annual political pow wow, the politicians got together the other day and it was a regular cat and dog fight.

Here's some of the things that were said by candidates about their opponents and others in the public eye in the State:

"Pussanimous liar."

"Dirty crook, contemptible liar and cheap fakir."

"It's a lie as black as you are yellow."

"I wish that little bench-leg fellow (The Governor of the State) had come here today. I had something to say to him."

"The whole state is infested with crooks and grafters."

With all this going on Mississippi is in a bad way.

The State seems to be hopelessly in the hands of selfish and crooked politicians and grafters.

The people are sick and tired and disgusted with the whole mess.

They are looking for a man who will lead the State out of the miasma of political strife and turmoil to higher ground.

A man who will preach a better day in Mississippi.

A man who will come forward with a policy of constructive politics in Mississippi, free from factionalism and factional strife.

A man who will steer clear of the bickerings of factionalism, and stay in the wide and broad road leading to a newer and brighter day in Mississippi.

A man who will recognize Mississippi's problems and offer a constructive solution of these problems.

A man who will lead the people up to the mountain top and show them the promised land of peace, and progress and prosperity—a State free from the political bickering and bitter factionalism with which the Commonwealth has been cursed since the days of Henry L. Whitfield.

We believe that the same political and psychological situation exists in the State today that existed when Whitfield made the race for Governor in 1924 and was elected—namely, that the people are sick and tired of conditions as they exist and that they are ready to follow a man who will lead them to the high ground of a better day in Mississippi.

Whitfield in his campaign ignored the politicians.

He let them fight among themselves.

He gave them the silent treatment. He preached in his campaign a gospel of a new day in Mississippi.

He offered the people a constructive administration of the State's affairs, free from hatred, strife and factionalism.

He appealed to the people for an unselfish devotion to the public interest, and they responded.

To day the people of Mississippi stand ready to follow a man who will take the high ground that Whitfield took, and they are ready to call him to the leadership in the sincere hope that Mississippi may be saved and restored to her former position of peace and progress.

UNSAFE HOSPITALITY.

Leonhard Thompson, who says he is from Oklahoma, confessed at Gulfport to killing a Louisiana lumber inspector who had befriended him and given him a lift on the road.

Then he went and got married the next day, Leonhard said.

Pretty cool. This thing of killing people after they have picked up straggling fellows has become too common in Mississippi and elsewhere. It is distressing to every man with a spark of human accommodation in his breast.

Every normal creature wants to give a man a lift in every way he can. It is good to think of picking up a chap trudging a dusty road when you come along in your car. But it isn't safe any more. It hurts to admit it, but it's a fact.

Many desperate youths, it seems, take this means of finding an opportunity to rob. Thompson was pretty callous about a Louisiana lumber inspector who befriended him, he said, and then got married. Didn't weight very heavily on his mind. This sort of cool deliberation emphasizes that road travel is not safe unless you are on your guard all the time, and it is a dangerous policy to pick up unknown pedestrians.

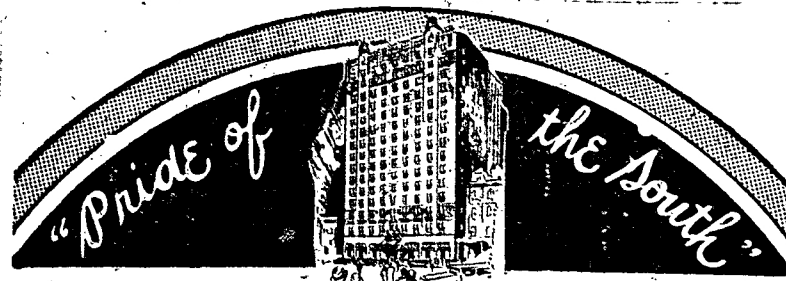

DAMON AND PYTHIAS

A dog and a cat, pets of the railroad men in the L & N's North Yard at Birmingham, Ala., are fast friends and live together in perfect peace and harmony in a shack in the Yard, according to the Employees' magazine of that road.

The names of the actors in this "Damon-Pythias" partnership are Carlo, the dog, and Wampus, the cat. Both, needless to say, are great favorites with the men.

Here's what real passenger service means: A father placed his wife and child on "The Pan American" of the Louisville & Nashville R.R. They were going to New Orleans to visit the wife's mother. The father had a comfortable feeling regarding their safety. Not a single passenger's life has been lost in twelve years in a train accident on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. He knew that his wife and daughter would be well cared for. There was a ladies' lounge room, an observation car, a radio. The mother and child went comfortably about the train as if they were at home. Attendants were courteous and solicitous of their welfare. During the trip, the mother had her hair dressed by the maid on the train. Both the mother and child had their accustomed shower in the morning. They left the train rested, refreshed.

On the income account of the railroad, this event was recorded by a small figure under Passenger Revenues. But how much more it meant to the railroad than this is indicated by the elaborate preparations made for the event; by the millions spent for cars, locomotives, proper maintenance, wages, safety, and comfort.

To provide safety and comfort, to pay employees, to contribute to prosperity, railroads must receive their share of revenues and must not be over-burdened with taxes.

SHOW CLUBHOUSE ON THE PEARL, IN HANCOCK COUNTY, FIRE VICTIM

Baldwin Lodge, Where Prominent Orleanians Met, Burns At Early Hour Monday—Place Was Known as "Baldwin Lodge"—Had Been Sold.

Baldwin Lodge, on Pearl River, in Hancock county, show place of all clubhouses along the L. & N. Route, fell prey to flames at an early hour Monday morning, from unknown cause, and was totally destroyed.

It was an historic landmark. For three decades or more it was famous as an assembly place of New Orleans Society.

The lodge was twenty miles from Bay St. Louis, on the east side of Pearl River, at its mouth and also faced the waters of the gulf and Mississippi Sound.

Constructed in 1892 by the late Albert Baldwin and other prominent Orleanians, the lodge cost approximately $40,000. Robert L. Ducros and his brother George L. Ducros, heads of the Southern Tile Company, Inc., owned the property at the time of the disaster.

The Ducros brothers, who purchased the lodge from the Baldwin estate for $75,500, said $85,000 insurance was carried on the building.

In 1892, a group of five men who enjoyed the waters of the Gulf Coast planned the historic structure. In the group were Albert Baldwin, E. G. Schleider, Captain Frank Beck, Lawrence O'Donnell and Thomas Sully.

Mr. Sully was asked to draw up the building plans. The contract was let to a Biloxi concern. Scores of improvements were made on the building, the original plan for which called for a wooden building with a brick foundation. The $40,000 lodge was one of the most handsome on the Gulf Coast. Baldwin Lodge was the scene of many social gatherings. Carnival parades, balls and festivities were planned at the picturesque spot.

Although the lodge was the only structure for miles around several years ago, L. & N. passenger trains stopped there when passengers wanted to get off.

Robert L. Ducros left for the estate from New Orleans several hours after the fire burned itself out. He received a telephone message from his keeper shortly after 4 a. m. Monday. The keeper, Mr. Ducros said, was awakened after the flames had gained much headway, and little was salvaged.

There had been a party at the lodge Saturday night. The lodge was not occupied Sunday night, according to reports.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 19 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

"Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

"I started taking them every morning as directed. I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce. I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give 'Kruschen Salts' a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 245 lbs. and at present, which is 28 days later, I weigh 126 lbs. I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I eat and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

"I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

"May all large people, both men and women, want to reduce, let me say, easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one.

"A bottle of Kruschen Salts that last four weeks costs but 85 cents at the Atlas Drug Store, for any drug store will sell it for you."

Tommy: "You slap me and I'll tell the conductor my real age."

TO THE MUSEUM OF SCIENCE

One of the recent contributions to Museum of Science and Industry at Chicago was an old time telegraph register from the L. & N. Railroad Company. This register was of the tape sort, that is, the message coming in over it was received via the eye from the tape and not via the ear by listening to the sounder as is now the case. A great many years ago these were the only kind of registers used, but the sounder type now in use, being more rapid, displaced them, at first partially and then entirely.

JOAN CRAWFORD COMING IN "OUR BLUSHING BRIDES"

Mme. Rasch Trained Star For Dances in Ballet Scenes of Talkie.

"Our Blushing Brides" with Joan Crawford in the starring role and such cinema favorites as Anita Page, Dorothy Sebastian, Robert Montgomery, Raymond Hackett and John Miljan in prominent supporting roles will be at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is said to have outdone itself in the matter of lavish settings, costumes, and unusual features for this production, having started off with a bang by hiring an entire Los Angeles department store, personnel and all, for the opening scenes which depict the daily routine of three women employees. Subsequent romances of the three girls place them in the environment of the millionaire class, and advance information has it that these settings are the most lavish and artistic representations of modernistic interiors yet seen on the screen.

Unusual features of the picture include a spectacular fashion-show held in the gardens of a Long Island estate, an Albertina Rasch ballet, photographed at night. This last sequence required a six weeks' training course in Greek dancing upon the part of Miss Crawford who studied under the direct supervision of Mme. Albertina Rasch.

BAYOU LA CROIX NEWS

Miss Maude Ladner of Bayou La Croix has returned home from State Teachers College where she spent the summer. She expects to remain home until the opening of her school at Catahoula on August 15th. Members of the family entertained her at a bathing party at the old "Govey" place. Among those present were, Nora and Alice Ladner, Roy Taffin, Lacy Perkins, David and Albert Ladner, Bob Reidy, Dixie O'Neal, and Ruby Smith. Refreshments were served and a good time was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Zena Lynn and little daughter, Eunice are visiting relatives at Pine Hills.

The people of Bayou La Croix are proud to say that the crops are suffering much from the dry weather. Due to the fact that the land is so level and retains the water longer. A good crop of corn and potatoes are going to be the results. This community has awakened to the fact that farming is more profitable than raising sheep.

The students, Nora, Alice, Albert and David Ladner, James and Katie Rutherford are to be transferred to Kiln High school this term.

Miss Lena Davis of Flat Top is to teach at the Bayou La Croix school.

Miss Ruby Smith from Flat Top spent the week-end with the Misses Maude, Alice and Nora Ladner.

Bayou La Croix is boasting of a mail route. The mail is delivered daily by one of the community's ablest citizens, Lewis Cuevas. The people of this community wish to thank Mr. Glover for his interest shown in securing the route.

DEATH OF HANCOCK COUNTIAN

Former Representative Julian A. Mauffray Passes Away After Long and Useful Life.

Battling an ailment of the heart for some time, Julian A. Mauffray, native Hancock countian, passed away at Houston, Texas, on the Lord's Day, August 10, 1930, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Trust. There were present his wife, daughter, a son, Oswald, from New Orleans, and other members of that circle of loved ones.

The remains were shipped to Bay St. Louis Sunday night, reaching here Monday morning and were met at the train by many friends of the Mauffray family in this city. Burial Services were held by Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, after which the funeral cortege proceeded to Fenton for burial.

Mr. Mauffray celebrated his 71st birthday on the 15th of July, and had been a resident of Houston since April 22 of this year.

He was the youngest of eight children and was a son of pioneer residents of the Fenton section of Hancock county, his father, Casimir Mauffray, Sr., a native of Brittany, France, and his mother before her marriage Miss Antoinette Cuevas, native of northern portion of Harrison county.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Lucille, and a son J. Oswald the latter by a former marriage, and four grand children. Mr. Mauffray was well known and well connected, a scion of one of the oldest and best connected families of Hancock. He was an uncle of our own townsman, Joseph O. Mauffray. Both were very fond of one another and had been close companions for life, at a time associated together in business.

Prior to moving to Houston he had been a resident of Harrison county for 28 years and at the time of his death was, and had been for years, one of the county election commissioners.

Julian A. Mauffray in 1892-94 served his county with credit and distinction as representative. A man of executive ability, a student and well versed in affairs of the State he ably served his constituents and helped to solve the economic problems that confronted that deliberative body of which he was part.

He served his people well and faithfully. As a citizen he was the very embodiment of all that goes to make for the ideal. He was attentive, sympathetic to every demand and plea, and never turned a deaf ear to anyone who sought his counsel or advice.

Retiring from public life, enriched with the glories that come to one who has that satisfaction of having served fully and to one's ability he felt that was sufficient reward and always enjoyed the confidence of every woman and child in Hancock county.

In later life he left the scenes of his childhood and younger manhood and moved over into the adjoining county of Harrison, choosing to reside at Mississippi City. Soon he became, by virtue of his splendid citizenship, a part of the citizenry of that locality and county. He became identified with every effort exerted for the best interest of people and community and here, too, in new fields, he lived and enjoyed the confidence of all who knew him. He lived as one of the best. He lived for the best of his people and his community and his country.

As a student of public affairs, and with his finger ever on the pulse of the times, he was versed and his interpretative mind gave forth opinions that were regarded. Hence, wielder of a most facile pen, he wrote for the local press from time to time a series of articles on public life. While a man of union, gentle and like the true gentleman he was, he never forced them on anyone else. However, these always commanded attention and his communications frequently bore fruit.

Only during the early part of this spring in order that he and his wife might live at the home of a married daughter, his son-in-law and grand children—to live in the bosom of their children during the time of his declining years—he moved to Houston, Texas, to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Trust, at St. Louis and the Kiln and Fenton neighborhood, and bade the friends of a life time good-bye. Choked with emotion he told this writer farewell. He had lived in the land of his forefathers, their traditions and sentiment, were his, and he felt that he would rest here in the very land he had loved best as well as his people.

Julian A. Mauffray was essentially a home man. His home was his castle and his friends he prized mostly above all other mundane possessions. This is indeed a fine tribute, for it is true, he loved his fellowmen. This too is attested to by the large number of mourners that had assembled at the grave in the country churchyard and cemetery to pay their last respect to the memory of the departed one.

GULFPORT PIRATES DEFEATED BY WAVE-LAND BALL TEAM

Both Teams Well Rated and Always Give a Good Account of Themselves.

Last Sunday in a well-played game of baseball the Waveland Base Ball Team defeated the crack Gulfport Pirates by the score of 10 to 4.

The Gulfport Pirates are rated as the independent champions of the Gulf Coast (by the Press.) Having won over 2-3 of the games played and the Lakeshore team is considered the best semi-pros on the Coast, having lost only 4 games out of 14 played.

The long hits of the game were made by Fred Bourgeois, 2 base hit and D. V. Telhiard, 3 base hit which tied the score in the 4th inning.

The Waveland team would like to arrange a game with Pass Christian or Gulfport Guards for Sunday August 24.

The summary of Sunday's game is as follows:

NEW CROP FOR SOUTH MISSISSIPPI

A new and promising crop for Southern Mississippi is provided by the Youngberry, according to H. J. Schweitzer, general agricultural agent of the Illinois Central System, writing in the August issue of the Illinois Central Magazine. This berry, which is said to be a cross between a dewberry and a loganberry, is black when ripe and larger than the ordinary blackberry. The new berry makes up into pies, jelly, preserves and jam, and its juice provides a good drink. From six acres there were harvested 1,400 24-pint crates that sold at an average price of nearly $4.00 a crate.

HERES ROMANCE

8,500 miles! It sounds like a "far" but to Frank E. Byrne, an employee of the New Zealand Government Railways at Wellington, N. Z. and Mac Murray of the Car Accountant's office of the L. & N. Railroad at Louisville, Ky., it offered no more of a conversational letter than a backyard fence. Mr. Byrne, young New Zealander of Irish descent, noticed and was attracted by a picture of Miss Murray in the L. & N. Employees' Magazine, and having long wished to correspond with some sympathetic person in America with whom he could exchange information about their respective countries, wrote her a letter. Miss Murray answered, and letters followed and today this long distance friendship and correspondence still continues. Strangely enough Miss Murray was born in Ireland and has been in this country only about three years.

BAY ST. LOUIS A SECTION OF CHARM INSPIRES MANY TO LIVE HERE

Chamber of Commerce Tells of the City in Reply to Request From Publishers of New Encyclopedia Shortly to Be Issued.

Recently P. F. Collier & Son Company of New York addressed a letter to the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, asking for an article describing this city for a new encyclopedia which they are to publish.

Mrs. Marielouise Juden, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, prepared the article herewith, which received the approval of the executive committee and for which Mrs. Juden was complimented.

"The name of our City is Bay St. Louis, the 'City By The Sea.' It was founded shortly after the time when D'Iberville landed in Biloxi on the Mississippi Gulf Coast in 1699, and at Back Bay planted the Standard of la Belle France and his beloved King Louis IX. He continued in his quest of discovery which finally landed him in Louisiana, where he discovered the beautiful body of water on the west side of which is situated the City of Bay St. Louis. This was on the birthday of his King, and in commemoration of both the natal day and discovery he named then and there the body of water, Bay St. Louis. From this, in later years, the town took its name, succeeding that of 'Chicapaoula,' of the primitive time, when the Indian inhabited the shore in that community.

"The elevation above sea level is 28 feet. Mean Temperature 59-3. Population 5,688.

"There are nineteen farms enumerated within the City limits. This is 1930 U. S. Census figures.

Nationality Predominates: American.

"Bay St. Louis was incorporated in 1882. Located in the Southern part of the State of Mississippi and in the Southeastern corner of Hancock county, of which it is the seat of government. Jackson, the Capital is 150 miles North. Gulfport, Mississippi, a manufacturing and railroad town is fourteen miles away. New Orleans, 'The most interesting City in the United States,' is 50 miles distant.

"A trunk line of the Louisville and Nashville, one of the Country's best systems, passes through Bay St. Louis. It enters from New Orleans to Mobile. Connection is made at New Orleans with the main line of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the Southern Railway System, the Illinois Central, the Southern Pacific and the Frisco. These roads give access to the North, West and East.

"Bay St. Louis is situated on the Bay, fifteen miles from the Gulf of Mexico. Rail and post facilities offered shippers in Bay St. Louis are supplemented by two units in the State Highway System. There are important trunk routes. One of these routes extends from Florida to California. It is called 'The Old Spanish Trail.' It is hard-surfaced over most of its stretches in the vicinity of Bay St. Louis. The other reaches from Bay St. Louis to Poplarville, Mississippi. Both routes are widely used for short haul transportation by truck and automobile.

"The run from Bay St. Louis to New Orleans, a distance of eighty-two miles can be made in two hours.

"Among the 'foremost of the natural resources' of the territory are the products of its agricultural section. Manufacturers of dairy products have taken advantage of the favorable conditions of soil, climate, and pasturage in the state. Seven hundred bales of cotton have been shipped from the town annually. Large quantities of pecans, strawberries, and vegetables also are raised in the district. Timber consisting chiefly of pine and hardwood is found within five miles of Bay St. Louis. Clay suitable for use in manufacturing of brick and tile, also gravel pits are being worked.

"Two banks serve the financial need of Bay St. Louis. The Hancock County Bank, with resources of $2,000,000, and the Merchants Bank & Trust Company, with resources of $1,000,000.

BILOXI TO BUY HALF OF ISLAND

Will Start Negotiations Immediately for Taking Over Part of Ship Island

Biloxi, Aug. 7.—Mayor John J. Kennedy, acting for the city of Biloxi, will start negotiations immediately for taking over the eastern half of Ship Island from the Harrison county board of supervisors, which purchased it recently from the government through the state legislature. Mayor Kennedy was authorized by the board of city council to arrange for the purchase of the Biloxi section of the historic island to be preserved as public property for park and playground purposes.

Early this year a movement was started for the purpose of offering the property to the state of Harrison county, or the cities of Gulfport and Biloxi. A movement was started immediately by organizations and citizens for acquisition of the island in front of which the city of Biloxi is situated. Its sale to Harrison County was completed several months ago. The western part will be sold to Gulfport.

Ship Island is of great value to Gulfport and Biloxi, especially because of its interesting history. It was discovered and named by the French during the 17th century when they anchored their ships there as protection from the sea and named it 'Isle aux Vessaux.' During the Civil war it was a stronghold of the federal forces who built Fort Massena, which still remains and was a base of operations for their maneuvers in this section during that period.

U. S. JUDGE RULES LIQUOR MAY BE MADE AND USED IN HOME

Possession and use of intoxicating liquor in the home by the family and guests do not constitute a violation of federal law, Judge Halsted L. Ritter ruled today in United States District Court at Miami, Florida, Tuesday.

The court also held that liquor may be manufactured in the home for the use of the family and guests. While Judge Ritter decided no search warrant can be obtained from home without an affidavit that the liquor is being sold and unless the latter is true, the home is free from searches.

GOV. BILBO CRYING FOR THE MOON

Unless assured that the Mississippi Legislature would pass a measure providing for a big bond issue and also gave him his state printing plant, there will be no more special sessions of the lawmakers, Governor Theodore G. Bilbo declared here.

The Columbus Chamber of Commerce today adopted resolutions calling upon the executive to recover the lawmakers for the sole purpose of raising $5,000,000 for highway construction.

Gov. Bilbo has been turned down five times for a state-wide printing plant and continues baying at the moon.

SKEPTICAL

Louis is $3,000,000.

"Bay St. Louis has the longest beach drive of the many picturesque resorts on the Gulf Coast, and offers the most attractive sites for summer and winter homes.

"For all year round fishing, bathing, golfing, hunting (in season) and other outdoor sports, the Bay is unsurpassed.

"Religious life in Bay St. Louis is centered in the following churches: White—Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist and Baptist. Colored: Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist and Baptist.

"Bay St. Louis school system is modern in every respect, being based on the State System—St. Stanislaus College for boys, and St. Joseph's Academy for girls. High school just completed at a cost of $75,000.00, also several public schools and a primary seminary for colored students. St. Stanislaus College has just dedicated their new wing of class rooms, which was built at a cost of $92,000.00. St. Joseph Academy has given contract for additional class rooms and a new gymnasium to be completed within ninety days, at a cost of $31,000.00.

"A privately owned library in the home of Mrs. Siler in Nicholson avenue gives the booklover relaxation. The city recently completed a seawall protection for its beautiful section, Beach Drive and residential section, costing over a quarter of a million.

"Social and Business Clubs are as follows: Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Mason, Woodmen of the World, Knights of Columbus, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, St. Marguerite Daughters, King's Daughters, Eastern Star, Bay Wave and Yacht Club. It is a wonderful country, this Mexican Gulf Coast, a picture charming and compelling that proves irresistible.

BAY RAMBLERS COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL BALL SEASON

The Bay St. Louis Ramblers, an independent 63-inch baseball team, have just completed a fine season by winning 18 out of 21 games played.

They defeated some of the strongest teams on the coast and they went out of their class and were beaten by three better teams. They are one of the strongest junior teams and will play any team anywhere within their class.

The Ramblers' pitcher, Constant Higgins pitched 16 games, winning 14 and losing 2. Another pitcher, Lawrence Luc pitched 5 games and lost one.

The Ramblers expect to have these two boys with them next year, because of their good work. Another Rambler player, Eddie Blaize, the home-run king of the Ramblers, who is a first baseman was sent to the Bay Panthers. He plays second on the Panther team and is doing fine.

The batting percentage for the entire year for the Ramblers were as follows:

Player	AB	H	R	E	W	Pct.
Ed Blaize	27	18	13	1	2	666-2-3

COAST STARS WIN AGAIN, SCORE 8-3

The Coast Stars last Sunday won their 15th game out of 19 starts, the Bay Giants being the victims.

Schoonmaker held the Giants scoreless and with one hit for five innings, fanning 10 men. Maurigi relieved him in the sixth and fanned 5 men.

The Giants' three runs were made on three consecutive errors.

The Coast Stars will play Bingham at Bingham, Sunday, August 17 and the Gulfport Pirates on Sick's diamond on the 24th of August.

MY SOUTHERN HOME.

If it be true that each individual finds something in the land of his birth that binds his love with ties that no other could form how much more in this love increased when his land, his love, his home, is one like mine; of birds, of sunshine, of balmy breezes and fair flowers.

Aye, it was here, when a little child, I wandered over mead and moorland, chasing the golden winged butterfly or culling the sweet blossoms around which the humming bird gracefully hovered.

beneath the spreading branches of the mighty oak and was lulled to sleep, to dream, by our own Southern Songster, whose every note seemed to him, as to me, one of ecstatic joy.

If it ever be my fate to wander in other climes still, on the wings of love, I will return to the one charmed spot—my own sweet, sunny Southern home. No other skies will be so blue, no other streams so clear.

Nature, in our Southland, is overflowing with abundance. Our soil is so fertile that you have only to 'tickle the earth and it will smile.' The agriculture of the South is, and has ever been, a great source of wealth.

This feature makes it a prominent one for the well-being and happiness of its people, as has been proved by careful observation.

An agricultural element possesses more means to pass life pleasantly than the mercantile, mining or manufacturing. Late developments, however, have been made in the South, to her richness of soil, we may add her mines, her oil and gas wells, etc.

In the near future, no doubt, we will be able to compete with any part of the country, even of the world, in all the various industries.

Northern genius and brawn will seek the South as a home. The newcomers, mingling with our intelligent, hospitable, gallant and brave, Southerners, will form a race better than any of either ancient or modern times. May I ever be thus!

May our lawmakers so frame the laws that the working-man will be protected in his rights. May the money-men so use their wealth that no means will be left to bring out the resources of our Southland.

May all, rich and poor, here find peace and happiness. May our rising generation, emulating their ancestors, be, as they, honorable in all their dealings with other sections of our country.

May the Legislative Halls of Mississippi, may the Congress Halls of our country still resound with Southern eloquence, and, still better, Southern Wisdom. May our fair ladies still be the queens of our hearts, and of our homes.

May we, in life's evening, close our eyes on our Southland, watered by that kind Providence to Whom we have, at all times, gratefully acknowledged all of our prosperity, all of our success.

Finally, may we be, laid to rest beneath Southern willow where our requiem will be sung by the mocking bird.

FIRST PECAN GROWERS LOCAL ORGANIZED AT GULFPORT REPORTED

South Central Pecan Growers Cooperative Association Organized With Gulfport Headquarters

The South Central Pecan Growers Cooperative Association organized at Gulfport, July 26, under the amended agricultural association law of Mississippi, is the first Mississippi pecan local to be set up. Other locals will be established at such time and place as volume of production will permit of economical operation. The domicile and location of the principal offices of the South Central Pecan Growers Cooperative Association will be at Gulfport, Biloxi, W. W. Swan, 25, an educational and membership campaign will be waged throughout the producing area of the state. It is planned to have organization perfected and machinery in operation for handling the 1930 crop of pecans.

Some of the leaders in the organization of the Mississippi local are: S. J. Greer, Natchez; Prof. W. I. Thames, Hattiesburg; H. L. Hooper, Lucedale; J. W. Daffin, Lucedale; C. E. Pratt, Wiggins; D. R. Weston, Logtown; James Brodie, Biloxi; W. F. Beasley, Biloxi; W. W. Swan, Lyman; Theo. Beitel, Ocean Springs; B. L. Hart, Fruitland Park; P. N. Howell, Howison; and C. M. Tingle, Jackson.

The Mississippi agricultural service department and the A. & M. College extension service are assisting the South Central Pecan Growers Association in the organization program.

BILOXI ADOPTS PROPOSED RULE

Requires All Children Entering School to Furnish Certificate

Biloxi public schools have ordered that all children entering the primary grade furnish a birth certificate in an attempt to prevent registration of children of pre-school age.

A similar law for the entire state was introduced but failed of passage at the last session of the legislature according to Dr. R. N. Whitfield, director of the bureau of vital statistics.

Scores of requests are being received by Jackson office for birth certificates, according to Dr. Whitfield, who hopes to re-introduce the bill at the next legislative session.

BROOMS AND MOPS.

The seemingly insignificant items of brooms and mops can into considerable amounts of money on a railroad as large as the Illinois Central System, according to the Illinois Central Magazine for August. Urging care and economy in the use of these emblems of cleanliness, the magazine points out that the railroad in 1929 bought 27,672 house brooms at a cost of close to $11,000 and 12,600 mops at a cost of close to $5,000. Suggestions are given for increasing the length of their useful life.

—Mrs. Louis Spori, mother of Mrs. W. A. Staehle, left New Orleans Friday for San Francisco from which place she will cross the bay for Oakland, California, and remain for an indefinite period visiting relatives and in quest of better health. She was accompanied by a friend.

—Dr. and Mrs. James A. Evans of North Beach Boulevard had as week-end guests Dr. Evans' mother, Miss J. A. Evans, Sr., his sister, Miss Johnnie Evans, his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thomson, all of New Orleans, and a cousin, Miss Anna McIntosh of Ellenville.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Furlow of Laurel, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. C. C. Clark, will motor to the Coast for the week-end and Mrs. M. E. Cochran, mother of Mrs. Clark who has been a guest for two weeks in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Clark, will return to Laurel with the Furlows.

—Bro. Peter, president St. Stanislaus College, left Friday night for the Louisiana parishes in the interest of the forthcoming college session, which promises an attendance to exceed all former records. He will be gone about ten days on this trip.

—Mrs. Horace Leche, son Andre, and other members of the family who left here recently by auto for California, report from Phoenix, Arizona, a most pleasant journey, and up to that time and place not even a puncture or the slightest untoward incident.

—Threatening weather failed to keep the usual large attendance from the Catholic church Tuesday night, where a novena to the Mother of Perpetual Help has been in progress for several weeks, a fact that must be very gratifying to the beloved pastor and his assistants.

—Several big red fish, weighing from ten to twenty pounds each, were caught along the railroad and highway bridges during the past week. To look at a successful land and "water" affords an angler a thrill long to be remembered, and it is the ambition of every fisherman to have such luck.

—Odelia Thomas, colored, was arrested by Police Officer Saucier, Monday, and placed in jail on a charge of stealing a bundle of laundry from the delivery wagon of the Gulfport Laundry Company. The value of the stolen apparel was the small that Mayor Travis set her free on her promise to leave the city.

—News from the bedside of Mrs. A. D. McBryde, who underwent a surgical operation at one of the hospitals in New Orleans last week, continues of the same discouraging nature, while friends are praying and hoping for the best. Mrs. McBryde was taken to New Orleans for a major operation, which was only partially performed, so it is stated.

—Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green, Jr., returned to their home at Houston Saturday, after spending the honeymoon in Bay St. Louis, visiting under the parental roof of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Green will reside at the Hotel Lamar in Houston, where he is prominently identified with the business interest of that thriving and prosperous city.

—Mr. E. A. Kalinski, house guest of his sister, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, for ten days, left on Monday morning for his home in Chicago, after enjoying the unmatched summer weather and climate of the wonderful Mississippi Gulf Coast. He plans to return next season, and every summer thereafter, he said. Mr. Kalinski's visit was one of much pleasure, receiving marked attention on every side.

—Miss Juliette Perre, graduate nurse, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Perre, the past week, returning to New Orleans on Sunday. It is especially gratifying to the many friends of this splendid young lady to know that her services are constantly in demand and a bright future is predicted for her in the profession which she has fitted herself.

—Our summer visitors continue to enjoy the delights afforded by vacationing at the best resort of all the Gulf Coast. There is room and a royal welcome awaiting all who may come here, and a gilt edge guarantee promised them that they will return next year and all future seasons to great will be their pleasure of a sojourn in our midst.

—Local minnows are anticipating some rare sport during the coming hunting season, as reports are constantly coming in that there has never been so many young quail, doves and wild turkeys in the fields and woods as have been seen this year. The breeding season was especially favorable for the feathered tribe, which accounts for the noticeable increase in their number.

—Mrs. Florence B. Fischer and son Daniel Barrow Fischer of New Orleans were guests of Mrs. Louis Born at Broadawn for several days. Mr. Fischer is nationally well known to garden lovers, he has won several prizes, and has been mentioned in most of the prominent magazines account of his garden which is considered one of the show places of New Orleans.

—Aligning himself with the spirit of the time, to beautify and enhance the attractiveness of the city, the J. E. W. Holzer dwelling in Carroll avenue, near beach front, is undergoing considerable improvement. A coat of immaculate white is a marked improvement over the former green and landscape workers have had the lawn and garden in charge, preparing for the fall and winter season. Mr. and Mrs. Holzer are substantial friends of Bay St. Louis, the city of homes.

—Farmers from the interior of this and adjoining counties are congratulating themselves that their crops have not suffered by the protracted drought to the extent that those of agriculturists in other sections of the country. Most of the damage sustained by them was to the early corn crop and garden truck. Sugar cane was somewhat retarded in its growth but there is yet a margin which a fair yield may be expected. Sweet potatoes will be plentiful and are likely to bring a good price.

DINNER GUESTS.

Mrs. Prather McDonald who has been at the Hotel Weston for some months, had as dinner guests Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Roland of Picayune and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald of Bay St. Louis.

ENTERTAINS RELATIVES.

Mrs. W. A. McDonald entertained at noon today at luncheon having as her guests cousins, Mrs. Percy McDonald and three children of Memphis who are at Biloxi for a month, Mrs. Prather McDonald and son of Nyack-on-Hudson, N. Y., who have been at Bay St. Louis several months, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. C. McDonald and two sons of Bay St. Louis.

PLAY CARDS.

Mrs. E. J. Leonard of North Beach Boulevard entertained informally Tuesday evening at cards her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Chalone, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. Geo. Muller and Dr. C. M. Shipp. Following the game dainty party refreshments carrying out the color scheme of green duplicated in her lovely decorations, served by the niece of the hostess, Miss Gene Kalinski.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON CLUB.

The Thursday luncheon-bridge club was entertained this week at the home of Mrs. E. J. Leonard of North Beach Boulevard. A tempting luncheon designed for the summer days was served and the afternoon diversion was bridge, enjoyed by the group of congenial friends who compose this card club.

Coming to Bay St. Louis.

Some two thousand excursionists will spend Sunday, August 24, in an annual outing, representing the Benevolent Knights of America of New Orleans. This will be the tenth annual event of this kind.

H. A. Gibbs, representing the fraternity and arranging for the outing, has been on the coast all week, registering the last few days at Hotel Weston, and is delighted over prospects for the success of this excursion and visit. Headquarters for the day will be at St. Stanislaus College auditorium and lawn as well as the bathing pier, which Bro. Peter has generously placed at the disposal of the excursionists.

The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce co-operated in getting this outing to come to Bay St. Louis, other points bidding for same.

Ladies who worked and assisted in the church benefit last week-end for the local Catholic parish were rewarded with success for their unfedging energy and enthusiasm in the interest of the cause. Considering many other causes calling for assistance and the paucity of prosperity just now the sum in cash realized calls for more than ordinary notice. Father Gruehl, publicly announces the church has a debt of $2500 to discharge September 1 and it is hoped the amount realized Saturday-Sunday nights will go a far way toward discharging the obligation. God bless the ladies.

—Mr. W. A. Moran, accompanied by Mrs. Moran, from Houston, Texas, is spending the summer with the latter's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Weir on the beach front and Booker avenue. While here Mr. Moran made several ornaments and figures from clay found on the banks of Jordan river in Hancock county. One figure represents a negro eating a piece of watermelon, a dog and a cat of historical character. It is quite evident the clay is of the right kind, as Mr. Moran states, and could be put to commercial purposes, adding to the natural resources of Hancock. While Mr. Moran is quite an artist he is actively engaged in commercial pursuit.

—Mrs. Jimmy Jones entertained at her home in Leonard avenue on Friday of last week, the 8th, in commemoration to their attractive house guest, Miss Lea Casey, of New Orleans. Three tables of cards engaged the attention of the guests during the forepart of the evening and dancing the latter part, among those participating were Misses Therese Lyman, Irma Koch, Lea Casey, Mrs. Wallace Bontemps, Mrs. Edward Warrel, Mrs. J. N. Straughan, Messrs. Wallace Bontemps, Jimmy Jones, William Witter, Earl Netto, Steve Straughan. Refreshments were served during frequent intervals during the games and dancing.

—Mrs. Wallace Bontemps and Mrs. J. N. Straughan were joint hostesses on Saturday evening of last week at a beach party given to compliment Miss Lea Casey, house guest of Mrs. Jimmy Jones. The guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Bontemps and motored to Henderson Point where a bon fire later supplied smoldering embers for the toasting of marsh-mallows and other toothsome goodness. Music and various games added to the evening's pleasures. Mrs. Bontemps had as her guests Misses Therese Lyman, Lea Casey, Yvonne Howard, Florence Fayard, Shirley Straughan, Messrs. Earl Netto, Bill Witter, Sidney Fayard, Harold Netto, Steve Straughan, Jimmy Jones, Wallace Bontemps, Darrell and Norward Straughan, Mrs. Jimmy Jones, J. N. Straughan and Mrs. J. N. Straughan.

—J. N. Knowles, owner of a chain of garages at Monroe, La., and one of the best-known business men of that section of Louisiana, Cliff Knowles of El Dorado, Ark., and "Daddy" Knowles father, well-known resident of Houston, La., accompanied by Kenneth St. J. Elliott, representative of the United States Tire Company, at Monroe, La., motored to the Mississippi Gulf Coast for the past week-end and scored fine records in golf at Pine Hills, all of the party being not only expert golfers, but golfers of no mean ability. While here they visited Mr. Elliott's brother, L. S. Elliott, at the family home in Union and Second streets. The party left with reluctance and plan to return when tinned and other fishing is able to be enjoyed. The Coast has never had so many visitors.

Edwards BrothersCOUNTY HAS NEW JUNIOR OFFICIAL

Hancock County has a new junior court and county official, a clerk of the court. The stork visited the home of Clerk and Mrs. A. G. Favre on the Lord's Day and added by divine gift another son to the now present family of four fine sons and one dainty daughter. Both mother and child doing well, and the distinguished young father is justly proud of the acquisition to his family and added happiness to his home.

New Arrival in Ford Family

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ford are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the occasion of the arrival of a daughter, who made her appearance at Touro Infirmary, New Orleans, on Tuesday evening. Both mother and child are doing well.

Mr. Ford is the well known and popular resident representative for the Chevrolet automobile for Hancock county. This is their only child and the happy event is one of double pleasure.

Another Booster for Ford

Charley C. Jinks, the hustling and affable manager for the Edwards Bros. Ford motor firm of Bay St. Louis is the happy father of a daughter, whose arrival dates since the latter part of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Jinks were already the parents of a son and the arrival of one of the fairer sex makes an ideal pair. Congratulations and best wishes are in order.

Oriole Guests

A party including Mrs. Henry A. Mentz, Henry Mentz, Jr., Mrs. M. E. Bridwell and John LeRoy McGee of Hammond, spent the week-end at the Oriole Tea Room on North Beach Boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Pende-grass and son, Sidney of New Orleans, were also week-end guests at the Oriole. While here they had a successful fishing trip with a fine catch. Miss A. Corcoran of New Orleans came to the Bay for the week-end to join her sisters, Misses Lillie and Cecelia Corcoran, who are spending two weeks at the Oriole. Mr. and Mrs. Stanga and party of fifteen friends from Covington motored to the Bay early Sunday morning for breakfast and also had dinner at the Oriole. While here they swam and enjoyed water sports. Mr. and Mrs. Stanga were guests at the Oriole in June, coming here for their honeymoon. Charles Rooney of Atlanta, tourist, spent Tuesday night at the Oriole.

CARD OF THANKS

In behalf of the Catholic church fair management and those who so unselfishly aided me, I wish to acknowledge with thanks favors from the Mississippi Power Company, Brothers of the Sacred Heart at St. Stanislaus college, chairmaids of all booths and the public in general, not forgetting the Bay St. Louis newspaper.

MRS. J. J. RITAYIK,
General Chairlady Fair,
Bay St. Louis, Miss., Aug. 12, 1930.

CARD OF THANKS

Deeply appreciative of the splendid efforts made by the Bay St. Louis fire department and others co-operating, I wish to express my thanks for their work and interest on the occasion of the recent fire which visited my home premises.

It is plainly evident how valiantly the fire was fought, and under the circumstance no better result could have been attained, saving the neighborhood from destruction.

Very sincerely,
W. PARTRIDGE,
Bay St. Louis, Miss., Aug. 8, 1930.

Entertain for Visitors.

A most delightful and interesting beach party at Henderson Point was given on Friday night of last week by Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Everett, honoring Mr. and Mrs. John T. Meyers of San Antonio, Texas, and Mrs. Meyers' sister, Mrs. Corinne O'Neal of Christine, Texas, who have been visiting at Waveland for the past two weeks.

The party enjoyed a frolicsome swim, followed by a sumptuous feast spread picnic like on the sand. Games were played about the flickering flames of a huge bon-fire, and several of the guests entertained with songs, dances and recitations that kept the party in happy spirits.

Attend Birthday Party

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Day of Handsboro, their sons-in-law, daughters and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bryan and Bobby of Handsboro and Mr. and Mrs. Niles E. Cruthirds and Niles Day of Bay St. Louis, motored to Hammond, Sunday to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Day's father, Robert M. Tyler who was 78 years old last week and for whom a family reunion was held Sunday. His ten living children were all present and in addition, nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren and the families of these present. Mr. and Mrs. Cruthirds returned home Sunday night the rest of the party remaining for the week.

Rotary Dist. Governor Visits

Aubrey Haas, merchant prince of Monroe, La., in private life, and governor of Rotary for the Seventeenth District, was an official visitor to Bay St. Louis Wednesday, and addressed the club in a constructive and most felicitous manner.

Guests from Pass Christian were: Messrs. E. A. Lang, L. L. Lazaar, Vinson Smith, Senior, William Adam, who accompanied the governor. Leo G. Ford was a local guest.

In the absence of the president and vice president George R. Rea was called upon to preside at the luncheon-meeting.

WAVELAND RESIDENT'S ESTATE DISPOSED BY WILL

In his will, which was filed in New Orleans Tuesday for probate, George Steele, summer resident of Waveland for many years left to each of his grandchildren $10,000 to be held in trust until each is 25 years old. To Mrs. Ernestine Francis Steele who is a daughter-in-law and to Mrs. Anna D. Flashphor he left $10,000 each. Leo to his mother, $10,000. The residue of the estate goes to his widow and to his son, George Steele. Mr. Steele died at Waveland during the summer.

SCHOOL FRIEND VISITS

Mrs. W. A. McDonald of North Beach Boulevard had as her guest last week Miss Zetta Jeffreys of Duncan, Miss., who is on the Coast as a guest at the Judge A. McC. Kimbrough home at Gulfport. Mrs. McDonald and Miss Jeffreys were school friends and had not seen each other in 34 years. This meeting was a happy occasion for each, exchanging reminiscences.

FAKE LIQUOR LABELS
BOOTLEG LIQUOR LURES
MISSISSIPPI THIRSTY

Labels Are Expensive But Cover a Multitude of Sins—
How It Is Done And What It Costs—Taking A Chance.

Labels are expensive.

Despite the long neck bottles, and varied-colored stickers, only one sample of Mississippi Coast liquor has proven genuine, out of almost 10,000 tested by the government chemists.

Southern District Administrator, M. H. Daily is authority for the statement, says the Jackson Daily Clarion-Ledger newspaper in a special article.

Mississippi's imported liquors are imported grain alcohol, cut, flavored, and colored to meet the demands of the respective labels, continues the article in that paper.

The art of "doctoring" the alcohol has become an art along the gulf coast, which at times proves highly profitable to successful rum runners.

The greater part of grain alcohol is imported from Cuba, in violation of the law. It is a distillate of black trap molasses and can be purchased cheaply on the island.

The alcohol is versatile. A dash of extract of juniper, and the addition of boiling distilled water—and presto, it becomes the famous "Gordon Dry Gin," in a long necked "frosted quart bottle." Where the bottle some from is a mystery to prohibition officials. But some manufacturer is turning them out in various shapes and sizes, to conform with the layman's idea of the pre-war containers.

Outside Print Shop Does The Work.

A print shop, or maybe more than one, believed to be located outside the United States is turning out labels that look genuine to even the slightest peculiarity of the original manufacturer.

"White Horse," Haig and Haig, "Johnny Walker" and many other famous marks adorn the fake bottles. But the labels present a problem. Some time ago the police and government agents have found Gordon G. H. stickers, and Scotch whiskey labels curiously hobnobbing on the same bottle.

The experienced bottler does not make that mistake. His customers are willing to pay for his time and trouble and he is careful. His product looks good down to the final wrapper, or if the customer prefers to buy in quantity, down to the wooden case of twenty-four.

Most successful runners prefer to forego the paper wrapper and wooden case. It cuts down expense and heavy newspapers wrapped around the bottles lend an air to illicit liquors. The customers always swallow the explanation that the paper was wrapped around the bottles to prevent breakage, when the quart were carried in sacks from the rum ship.

Grain Alcohol Is Inexpensive.

The grain alcohol is not expensive. It can be purchased for $2 to $5 a gallon. Add to that the cost of tinted and vari-shaped bottles. They cost more than ketchup containers, but twenty-five cents is probably a fair estimate. The best imitation labels cost $25 to $50 dollars a thousand. Corks can be bought for five cents a dozen.

The knowing bootlegger can put up a quart of his best "imported" at a total cost in the neighborhood of one dollar. The long necked bottle brings $8 a quart in Jackson. The only handling cost is the gasoline a high powered car will burn between Jackson and the Coast.

Good Business—If

Bootlegging is a good business—if you don't get caught, but hundreds of "samples" in possession of Administrator Daily are silent reminders of the "power of the law." The samples were collected during the past few months. Other hundreds of samples long since destroyed have sent a number of men to the "big house."

The samples are evidence. Other hundreds of bottles have been confiscated.

The collection is dotted with long necked bottles of bootlegger's who work the imported graft. There are scores of samples of moonshine liquor. Some of it is clear, but most of it has been colored or doctored. One bootlegger, who used to be successful, used two big apples in each barrel of mash to take the still tang from his whiskey. Another made use of prunes for the same purpose, but few attempts to masquerade still whiskey under old familiar labels.

Bootlegging may be an art, but Uncle Sam is tough on the artists.

Leaving on Trip.

Edward Jones, local attorney, his mother, Mrs. Peter J. Jones of Bay St. Louis, and brother, Peter J. Jones of New Orleans, will leave Saturday by motor for a two weeks' trip which will include a visit to Houston, Texas, and other points.

MRS. JAS. K. VARDAMAN DIES

Mrs. James K. Vardaman died in Birmingham, Ala., at the home of her daughter Wednesday night, aged 78 years. The remains will be brought to Jackson for burial. She was twice married.
